1. Purpose

The parties intend to discuss a potential commercial relationship involving data analytics software, implementation services, and related product integration (the "Purpose"). In connection with the Purpose, either party may disclose confidential or proprietary information to the other.

2. Confidential Information

"Confidential Information" means non-public information disclosed in written, electronic, visual, or oral form that a reasonable person would understand to be confidential, including product roadmaps, pricing, source code, technical architecture, security practices, customer lists, business plans, forecasts, vendor terms, and non-public financial information. Information will also be treated as Confidential Information if it is marked confidential or identified as confidential when disclosed.

3. Exclusions

4. Use and Protection

The Receiving Party will use Confidential Information only for the Purpose and will protect it using at least reasonable care. The Receiving Party may disclose Confidential Information only to its employees, contractors, attorneys, and advisors who need to know it for the Purpose and are bound by confidentiality obligations at least as protective as these terms.

5. Compelled Disclosure

If disclosure is required by law, subpoena, or court order, the Receiving Party may disclose the minimum amount legally required, and, where legally permitted, will provide prompt written notice so the Disclosing Party may seek protective relief.

6. Term

This Agreement begins on the Effective Date and continues for two years. The confidentiality obligations survive for three years after the last disclosure of Confidential Information, except that trade secrets will remain protected for so long as they qualify as trade secrets under applicable law.

7. Return or Destruction

Upon written request, the Receiving Party will promptly return or destroy Confidential Information, except for copies retained in routine backups or as required by law, which remain subject to this Agreement.

8. No License; No Warranty

No intellectual property rights are granted by disclosure except the limited right to use Confidential Information for the Purpose. Confidential Information is provided “as is,” without warranty as to accuracy or completeness.

9. No Obligation to Proceed

Neither party is obligated to enter into any transaction or commercial relationship because of this Agreement.

10. Remedies

A breach may cause irreparable harm for which monetary damages may be inadequate. The injured party may seek injunctive or equitable relief in addition to other available remedies.

11. Governing Law

This Agreement is governed by the laws of the State of Oregon, without regard to conflict-of-law principles. The state and federal courts located in Multnomah County, Oregon will have exclusive jurisdiction over disputes arising from this Agreement.

12. General

This Agreement is the entire agreement concerning confidentiality for the Purpose and supersedes prior discussions on that subject. Amendments must be in writing and signed by both parties. Neither party may assign this Agreement without the other party’s written consent, except to a successor in connection with a merger or sale of substantially all assets.
